

Student Employment Handbook

Dickinson College offers many opportunities for on campus employment through both institutional and Federal work-study positions. This handbook should act as a guide for the Student Employment Program at Dickinson College. Questions or problems should be directed to the Student Employment Office at (717) 254-8949 or stuemp@dickinson.edu.

The student employment program will financially assist students with educational costs, while providing the necessary work-related tools that will be essential for a future career. It will also support the College and potential supervisors in obtaining an educated work force.

Dickinson College reserves the right to revise procedures and/or forms contained within this handbook.

Student Employment Eligibility

Only full-time matriculated Dickinson College students are eligible for the federal work-study student employment program. The following students are eligible for the institutional student employment program:

- Students attending Dickinson College full-time.
- Students who are enrolled part-time, and who are completing Dickinson College degree requirements.

Student Employment Programs

The Student Employment Office coordinates two student employment programs:

- Institutionally funded on-campus employment: Provides part-time job opportunities for currently enrolled students, regardless of financial need.
- Federally funded (Federal Work Study) on-campus and off-campus employment: Federal Work Study provides job opportunities for students demonstrating financial need to help pay for educational expenses. Federal work study eligibility is reviewed each year and is determined by the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). If a student is eligible for federal work study, the work study award will be included in the financial aid package.

The federal work study program encourages colleges to designate a certain number of work study jobs to community service. The definition of 'community service' according to Department of Education guidelines is as follows: '...services that are designed to improve the quality of life for community residents, particularly low income individuals, or to solve particular problems related to their needs.'

In order to be eligible for the federal work study/community service program, a student must be eligible for federal work-study. Federal Community service positions are available through campus-based programs such as America Reads and the Montgomery Service Leaders Program. Federal work study community service positions are only available during the academic year.

 - The student will be permitted to work at another department on-campus as long as the student works a minimum of 6 hours per week in Dining Services.
 - The student is required to maintain at least 6 hours per week for the duration of the semester.

 - The request will be approved and the student will be permitted to work outside of Dining Services.

Finding a Job

Working Hours (Allowable Hours per Week)

Dickinson recognizes that many students rely on employment during the academic year to meet financial needs. In recognition of this, the college will continue to facilitate the employment of student workers on campus. However, a student's primary responsibility is to his/her academic studies. Therefore, the college will limit the number of hours a student is permitted to work on campus during the fall and spring semesters. While the college is not able to control the number of hours that students work off campus, students are encouraged to limit off-campus work hours as well in order to allow appropriate attention to their studies.

When the fall and spring semesters are in session (including final exam periods), all students may work a maximum of eighteen (18) hours per week on-campus. The eighteen hours per week maximum rule applies to all student employees including: Federal Work Study eligible students, institutional work study students, and nonresident alien students.

- Please Note: The total of eighteen hours per week maximum is inclusive of all employment and includes hours worked from all on-campus jobs combined. For example, if a student works 12 hours a week in one on-campus job, he/she may only work 6 hours per week in a second on-campus job.

Please note that most students can earn their entire work study award by working an average of ten to twelve hours per week during the academic year. Therefore, the 18-hour limit should not impede a student's ability to obtain their maximum work study award.

Student work hours will be monitored regularly for compliance. Supervisors are expected to communicate and enforce the 18-work hour limit with student employees, including those working in more than one on-campus job. The consequences of exceeding the 18 hours per week limit for students and departments are as follows:

- Students: Violation of the 18-hour per week limit will result in a warning to the student. Continued violation of the policy will result in termination of the student's employment and eligibility for future student employment.
- Departments: Repeated violation of the 18-hour per week limit will result in a warning to both the student and supervisor. Continued violation of the policy will result in termination of the student's employment within the department, and the Division Vice President will be notified of non-compliance. If a student works in multiple departments, appropriate measures will be taken with each department.

Banner Time Entry

Used for student employees in all departments with the exception of: Dining Services, College Bookstore/Devils Den, Mail Center, Conference and Special Events office, and Library Services.

Time entry must be completed to indicate the hours the student has worked. Students must submit the hours that have been worked and the supervisor must approve those hours. Hours are calculated in 1/4 hour increments. If a student has more than one job, the student will have to submit the hours worked for each job separately.

- To access Banner web time entry go to: Gateway
- Students should enter '0' for days that they did not work any hours.
- Students can learn how to use Banner web time entry, by accessing the Banner Self Service Training System link on the Main Menu of Banner Self Service.

TimeClock Plus

Used for student employees in Dining Services, College Bookstore/Devils Den, Mail Center, Conference and Special Events office, and Library Services.

TimeClock Plus is a time keeping system that is used in departments that have hourly employees who report hours with little or no access to a computer.

- TimeClock Plus is a time clock swipe card system. Student employees will swipe their student id card at the beginning of the work shift and at the conclusion of the work shift.
- Students will receive instructions on specific time entry procedures from the department. It is the student's responsibility to learn the procedure used by the department and to adhere to the department standards.

Time Cards

(Used for student employees working off-campus at an approved Community Service Organization.)

- Time cards are completed to indicate the hours that have been worked. Students and their supervisor must sign the time card. Hours are calculated in 1/4 hour increments. If a student has more than one job, the student will have a time card for each job.
- Time cards are due Monday by noon on weeks when the payroll is generated. Time cards must be delivered to the student employment office in order to be paid. Late time cards will be paid the following pay period.

Electronic Pay Advice

Student employees will receive an Electronic Pay Advice in their Dickinson College email account. A printable, downloadable file will be available.

Upon receiving the first pay, it is advisable for students to check the accuracy of the address so that corrections can be made immediately if necessary. A 'gross' amount of earnings will appear and a 'net' amount earnings will appear. The net amount represents the amount that has been deposited into the individual bank account. The pay advice also indicates taxes that have been withheld and the year-to-date amounts. Students should expect to have state and local tax withheld and possibly federal tax, depending on the way the W-4 form was completed. Social security taxes (FICA and MEDI) are not normally withheld, since full-time students are exempted from this tax during the Academic Year.

Federal, State, and Local Taxes

All wages paid to Federal work study and institutionally funded student employees are subject to withholding of federal, state, and local income taxes unless the student qualifies for an exemption.

FICA (Social Security Taxes)

Full-time students are exempt from FICA taxation. Students will be exempt from FICA taxation for services performed during the winter break providing they were exempt on the last day of the fall semester and that they are eligible to enroll for the spring semester. Students are exempt from FICA taxation for work performed during any period that partially falls within the academic year. If a student is employed during the summer, FICA taxes will be withheld.

Local Services Tax (LST)

People employed in the state of Pennsylvania are required to pay a maximum $52 Local Services Tax. A person is subject to the LST at his/her 'place of employment,' which means the actual location where the individual works. Dickinson College's LST is $52. The Borough of Carlisle's LST ordinance states that a person whose total income from all sources is less than $12,000 for any calendar year is exempt from the payment of the LST tax and may apply for an exemption. It is the responsibility of the employee to complete the Local Services Tax Exemption Form.

Benefits

As a student employee, there are no benefits such as sick leave, holiday pay, vacations or retirement plans. Student employees are eligible for worker's compensation under provisions of Pennsylvania State law. Worker's compensation covers expenses for medical care and certain benefits for loss of pay resulting from injuries or disabilities incurred on the job. Supervisors should be contacted as soon as possible in the event of an on-the-job injury. If someone is injured on the job, please contact the supervisor immediately.

Legal Policies

- The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act \(FERPA\) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.
- The Fair Labor Standards Act \(FLSA\) establishes minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping, and child labor standards affecting full-time and part-time workers in the private sector and in Federal, State, and local governments. Covered nonexempt workers are entitled to a minimum wage of not less than $7.25 an hour.
- Dickinson College is an intellectual and social community which values justice, free inquiry, diversity, and equal opportunity. It is a fundamental policy of the College to respect pluralism and to promote tolerance, civility, and mutual understanding within its community. The College does not discriminate on such bases as race, color, sex, political and religious beliefs, marital status, age, sexual orientation, national and ethnic origins, veteran's status, or disability. Equal Opportunity Policy
- The Americans with Disabilities Act \(ADA\) ensures equal opportunity for persons with disabilities in employment, State and local government services, businesses that are public accommodations or commercial facilities, and in transportation. Title I of the ADA prohibits discrimination against persons with disabilities in employment by businesses having 15 or more employees, or by State and local governments. Title I with respect to private supervisors is enforced by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

Information for International Students

SEVIS

Exchange visitor and student information is maintained in the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS). SEVIS is an Internet-based system that maintains information on non-immigrant students (F and M visa) and exchange visitors (J visa). SEVIS enables Dickinson College to transmit mandatory information and event notifications via the Internet, to the Department of Homeland Security and Department of State (DOS) throughout a student or exchange visitor's stay in the United States.

Maintaining Immigration Status

As a student/exchange visitor, students must understand immigration status and the consequences that may occur if status is violated. Visa classifications have requirements that must be followed and maintained, in order to ensure the ability to remain in the United States. Requirements that are not followed violate the legal status of the individual visa holder. Upon violation, the visa holder is considered to be 'out of status.' Failure to maintain legal status according to your visa regulations can result in arrest, and may require violators to leave the United States. Violation of status may also affect a person's readmission to the United States for a period of time.

On-Campus Student Employment

Visa regulations state that international students with certain visa types, may work a maximum of 20 hours per week when school is in session. However, Dickinson Policy states that all students may work a maximum of eighteen (18) hours per week on-campus. During break periods or when school is not in session, 40 hour per week, full-time work is permitted.

Work Hours (Maximum Allowable Hours)

Dickinson recognizes that many students rely on employment during the academic year to meet financial needs. In recognition of this, the college will continue to facilitate the employment of student workers on campus. However, a student's primary responsibility is to his/her academic studies. Therefore, the college will limit the number of hours a student is permitted to work on campus during the fall and spring semesters.

When the fall and spring semester are in session (including final exam periods), all students may work a maximum of eighteen (18) hours per week on-campus. The eighteen hours per week maximum rule applies to all student employees including: Federal Work Study eligible students, institutional work study students, and nonresident alien students.

- Please Note: The total of eighteen hours per week maximum is inclusive of all employment and includes hours worked from all on-campus jobs combined. For example, if a student works 12 hours a week in one on-campus job, he/she may only work 6 hours per week in a second on-campus job.

Student work hours will be monitored regularly for compliance. Supervisors are expected to communicate and enforce the 18-work hour limit with student employees, including those working in more than one on-campus job. The consequences of exceeding the 18 hours per week limit for students and departments are as follows:

- Students: Violation of the 18-hour per week limit will result in a warning to the student. Continued violation of the policy will result in termination of the student's employment and eligibility for future student employment.
- Departments: Repeated violation of the 18-hour per week limit will result in a warning to both the student and supervisor. Continued violation of the policy will result in termination of the student's employment within the department, and the Division Vice President will be notified of non-compliance. If a student works in multiple departments, appropriate measures will be taken with each department.

Obtaining a Social Security Number

Students should submit completed paperwork for a Social Security Number to Dickinson's Center for Global Study and Engagement as soon as possible. In order to apply for a Social Security Card, students must first be hired for a job on-campus. Once a student has been hired for a job on-campus, the student will need to obtain an employment verification letter from the Student Employment office. The employment verification letter must accompany the Social Security Card Application. Students may begin working on-campus once all of the necessary Social Security paperwork has been submitted.

Upon receiving a Social Security number, the student must take the Social Security Card to the Registrar's Office in the Biddle House for employment eligibility verification.

Requesting an Employment Verification Letter for the Social Security Administration

In order to request a verification letter the student must email the following information to the Student Employment Office (stuemp@dickinson.edu):

1. Full Name exactly as it appears on Visa Documentation.
2. The name of the hiring department.
3. The date work will begin. (Start Date)
4. Number of hours per week (approximate).

Upon receiving the information, the Student Employment office will prepare the Employment Verification Letter within 48 hours. The letter will be forwarded directly to Dickinson's Center for Global Study and Engagement.

Summer Employment

The summer student employment program begins following graduation (mid-May), and concludes in late August. During the summer, the Student Employment Office coordinates one student employment program.

- Institutionally funded on-campus employment.
- There are NO Federal Work Study positions available during the summer.

Research and grant opportunities are coordinated directly through the Research and Development Office. All Research & Development positions are full-time 40 hour per week positions. Students who accept a summer Research & Development position, are not permitted to accept other positions on campus.

All students are limited to working a maximum of 40 hours per week during the summer, regardless of the number of positions held. Dickinson College does not allow students to work greater than 40 hours per week and will not allow any overtime.

Student employees who work greater than 40 hours per week will be in violation of college policy. The following procedure will be followed for students/supervisors who violate the overtime policy:

- First time offense: The student and the supervisor will be notified regarding the violation.
- Second offense: The student, the supervisor, and the Divisional Vice President/Provost will be notified.
- Third offense: The student, the supervisor, and the Divisional Vice President/Provost will be notified and the student will be terminated immediately.

The only students who may be hired as part of the Dickinson College student employment program during the summer are:

- Returning Dickinson College Students: Students who were enrolled full-time during the preceding spring semester and who have all intentions of returning as a full-time student the subsequent fall semester.

The following groups of students must be hired as casual employees of the College, and will be hired through Human Resources Services.

- Dickinson Alumni, including recently graduated Dickinson students
- Non-Dickinson College students
- High School students

FICA Tax for Summer Student Employees

During the summer, FICA tax will be withheld from the wages of all students working at Dickinson College. The only exception is for international students who have been in the United States for less than six years. Due to tax withholding, students can expect that the amount of take home pay may be reduced by approximately 6-7%.

Room and/or Board

Room and board is provided to the student if the position requires the student to live on-campus. The job description must clearly specify the essential duties which justify summer residence on-campus. Students performing summer research funded through Research and Development are required to live on-campus. This requirement is clearly stated within the research contract signed by the student and by the department Supervisor.

Performance Evaluation

The Student Employment office strongly recommends that supervisors provide ongoing feedback regarding a student's work performance.

A performance evaluation should take place in the following circumstances:

- For all student employee(s) who supervise other student employees within a department.
- Upon request by any student employee(s) within a department.

Evaluation forms will be used to summarize employee performance over a definite period of time. Forms will not replace daily discussion and informal evaluations which normally occur between a supervisor and an employee.

Supervisors conducting an evaluation, should follow the following steps:

- Complete the student job evaluation form(s).
- Discuss the evaluation(s) with the student(s).
- Give a copy of the evaluation to the student.
- Maintain a copy of the evaluation in your department files to become a part of each student's employment record.
- Click here to download a copy of the evaluation form, or contact the Student Employment office at 717-254-8949.

Benefits of evaluations:

- It encourages feedback for both students and employers. Evaluations provide a structured format for the discussion of performance issues.
- It enhances Career Development plans. Evaluations provide an opportunity for the discussion of career objectives.
- It reviews performance history. Evaluations provide a performance history which can be used regarding personnel decisions, including compensation.
- It aligns with Strategic Goals. Evaluations provide an opportunity to view a student's performance in relation to the strategic goals of the College.
- It outlines Job Standards. Evaluations provide an opportunity for clearer articulation and definition of performance expectations.

Termination Procedures

As a student employee, failure to meet job responsibilities or to abide by department rules may result in disciplinary action. Infractions include, but are not limited to: the failure to perform job duties adequately and in a professional manner, unexcused absence or tardiness, leaving the job without permission, violating safety practices or failure to record hours worked accurately. In the event that disciplinary action is necessary, the following process may be followed:

1. A verbal warning by the supervisor for the first offense.
2. Documentation of the same offense a second time by the supervisor, in the form of a written warning. The warning should include suggestions and a time period for correcting the unacceptable behavior.
3. A third offense may warrant a decision by the supervisor to suspend or terminate employment.

In some cases, immediate termination of employment may take place. Instances that may warrant immediate dismissal include but are not limited to: repeated unexcused absence or tardiness; time entry that is submitted late by 2 or more pay periods; falsification of your time entry record; provoking or instigating a fight or coercing others; willfully misusing, destroying, or damaging Dickinson College property; deliberate insubordination; falsifying College documents; theft; unauthorized possession of firearms or explosives; immoral conduct or indecency; consuming or being under the influence of intoxicants of any type; and actions which jeopardize the College's public image.

Resignation Procedure

If a student decides to resign, it is recommended that at least a two-week notice be provided to the supervisor. If a student voluntarily resigns or is released from employment, that student is not guaranteed employment elsewhere on campus.

Payroll Notification for Terminated Employees
