To select a room

Students will be eligible to select a room as soon as their lottery time opens if:

- the student has roommate preferences all matched
- any roommate requests that are not matched that you initiated are removed from your request queue.

1. Access myHousing through the Student Resources tab of your gateway.
2. Click on the "Room Selection" menu.
3. Click on the "Select a Room/Suite" link.
4. If you are eligible to select a room at that time, click on the "Find Available Rooms" button.
5. A list of all of the available rooms with the occupancy of the number of roommate matches that you have will appear.
6. When you locate your desired room, click on the "Select Room" button next to the room or any of the rooms in the suite, house or apartment you are interested in living. Please note that this does not lock-in your selection, nor absolutely guarantee the availability of the room to you.
7. Book the beds and rooms for each person by selecting them from a drop-down menu by each available space.
8. Click "Submit Room Selection" to verify your selection and confirm your room booking.
 - a. If the room is available, you will get a screen that congratulates you on completing your room selection process.
 - b. If the room is unavailable, you will get a screen that has a link to redirect you back to available room choices.
9. When you confirm booking and selection of a room, you completed your housing selection and will receive an email with your housing assignment.

If a space of your desired size is no longer available:

You will need to break down your group into smaller groups by using your contingency plans. Please note that all students in the group will need to remove the necessary roommate matches to make smaller groups. You will then need to select rooms based on these smaller groups and by who in each group has the earliest lottery time.

Residence Life & Housing STRONGLY RECOMMENDS that all students have multiple back-up options in the event that their first choice of housing isn't available at the time of room selection.
