Fees and Interest

Policy/Procedure

Upon registration, a student incurs a financial obligation to Dickinson College (the “College”). An itemized billing statement is mailed approximately seven (7) weeks prior to the beginning of classes each semester. Payment is due no later than fourteen (14) days prior to the beginning of classes each semester. If the College receives the student’s payment in full on or before the due date, no interest will be imposed.

Overdue accounts are subject to a late payment fee of $50 and a one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month interest charge on the unpaid balance. Fees and interest may be waived if financial aid posted late due to no fault of the student. Bookstore and other miscellaneous consumer charges (including student and employee charges on account) will be billed on a monthly basis and are due upon receipt.

The College will assume that billing statements provided to students and employees are correct and that the student/employee agrees to pay the amount due if the College is not informed of an error within sixty (60) days of the initial receipt of the statement on which the disputed amount appears.

If the College determines that a mistake has been made on the student/employee’s bill, the student/employee will not have to pay fees and interest related to the questioned amount. If the initial bill by the College is determined to be accurate the student/employee may have to pay fees and interest and will have to make up any missed payments on the questioned amount. In either case, the student/employee will receive a statement of the amount due and the date that it is due.

Appeals of fees and interest may be made by contacting Student Accounts.
