

Milton B. Asbell Center for Jewish Life
Worship

The Asbell Center is the home for the Jewish life and learning on Dickinson's campus.

Policy/Procedure

Access Policies

Students and community members must apply for access privileges to the Asbell Center. Those who apply for access privileges agree to the following:

- Only dairy and vegetarian food may be brought into the center.
- Students will clean up after themselves. Any furniture that is moved around must be restored to its original place.
- Food in the refrigerators is off limits.
- The Director and Program Assistant's offices are off limits.
- Business machines are not available for personal use.
- Sexual activity, public drunkenness and offensive language are not permitted.

Violations of the above may result in suspension or permanent revocation of access privileges.

Under no circumstances are the following permitted:

- Carrying or consuming alcohol
- Possession, use or sale of illegal drugs
- Smoking
- Stealing or unauthorized use of supplies
- Vandalism or intentional damage
- Physical, emotional or spiritual violence carried out on any person
- Possession, use or sale of firearms or weapons

Related Information

History/Revision Information

Responsible Office/Division: The Asbell Center for Jewish Life

Effective Date:

Last Amended Date: August 2019

Next Review Date: August 2022

Also Found In: Asbell Center Web Page (www.dickinson.edu/departments/asbell/)