

Spring 2019 INST Elective Courses

Globalization & Sustainability Concentration

1) Students in classes of 2019, 2020, 2021 with a Globalization & Sustainability concentration can select concentration courses from both the World Economy & Development & the Sustainability & the Global Environment lists.

2) Students in the class of 2022 forward must choose either a World Economy & Development concentration or a Sustainability & the Global Environment concentration with all concentration courses coming from the appropriate list.)

World Economy & Development

ECON 214 Political Economy of Gender

ECON 314 The Chilean Experiment: Economic Advice, Monetarism & Economic Liberalization

ECON 371 British & European Economic History

INBM 230 International Organizational Behavior

INBM 240 Marketing in a Global Context

SOCI 237 Global Inequality

HIST 283 World Migrations since 1850

Sustainability & the Global Environment

EASC 206/POSC 290 Asian Urban Ecology

ECON 222 Environmental Economics

ENST 372/INST 290 Environment, Conflict, & Peace

ERSC 142 Earth's Changing Climate

HIST 151 History of the Environment

HIST 206 American Environmental History

RELG 215 Jewish Environmental Ethics

SOCI 230: Sustainability: Social Justice & Human Rights

Security Studies / Global Security Concentration

This list is applicable for the classes of 2019, 2020, 2021 Security Studies concentration and the renamed Global Security concentration applicable to the class of 2022 forward.

ENGL 101/WGSS 101 Women Write War

ENST 372 Environment, Conflict, & Peace

HIST 215 After Genocide & Apartheid: Peace, Justice & Reconciliation

INST 271/POSC 271 Ethics & International Security

INST 281/POSC 281 American National Security Policy

INST 283/POSC 283 Intelligence & National Security

INST 290/POSC 290 Global Security

MEST 233 US Public Diplomacy in the Arab World

POSC 258 Human Rights

POSC 390 National Security Law (counts as Security Studies seminar for the certificate)

SOCI 272/MEST 272 Islam & the West

SOCI 313/WGSS 313 Contemporary Human Trafficking