

Fall 2020

International Studies Elective Courses

Security Studies/Global Security Concentration Courses

INST 240/ECON 240: International Development
INST 290/POSC 290/RUSS 260: A New Cold War?
INST 290/HIST 215/MEST 200: US - Mid East Relations
POSC 258: Human Rights
HIST 277: European Empires

World Economy & Development Concentration Courses

INST 240/ECON 240: International Development
INST 273/POSC 273: International Political Economy
INBM 230: International Organizational Behavior
INBM 240: Marketing in a Global Context
SOCI 237: Global Inequality

Sustainability & the Global Environment Concentration Courses

INST 290/ENST 371: Global Environmental Politics
ECON 222: Environmental Economics
ECON 332: Economics of Natural Resources
ERSC 142: Earth's Changing Climate
HIST 211: History of Climate Change

Notes:

1. Students in the class of 2021 working in the old Globalization & Sustainability concentration can select concentration courses from both the World Economy & Development & the Sustainability & the Global Environment lists.
2. IS majors with a country or region concentration should consult Banner and their advisor for courses that count toward their concentration.