

Protection of Minor

The college is committed to the protection and safety of minors. While the vast majority of the members of the Dickinson community are adults 18 years of age or older, our community also includes minors less than 18 years of age, both in formal relationship to the College, and more informally, as frequent visitors. It is the obligation of every member of the College community to report suspected child abuse as soon as possible. These obligations are more fully described in the Campus Policy Manual located on the website at:
