2018-2019 Service-Learning/ Community-Based Research Course Development Stipend Application Form

Purpose: Faculty may use these stipends to develop a service-learning/CBR component to an existing course, or to develop a new service-learning/CBR course. Faculty who receive a stipend will participate in summer study group and follow-up sessions with peers to explore and assess service-learning/CBR pedagogy, as detailed on the Service-Learning/CBR Course Development Stipend announcement.

Name:_____

Course Title: _____

Department: _____

Check one: Current Course _____   New Course _____

Note: For existing courses: Please submit a syllabus.

On a separate sheet, briefly address the following questions:

1. What are the academic/intellectual issues that you plan to address through the service-learning/CBR experience?
2. How do you anticipate that this community experience will be integrated into the course content?
3. With which community contacts or community partners do you think you will plan this service-learning experience?
4. What, if known, might be the nature of the community experience? (For example, community-based service experience, or community-based research that creates some value for the community partner.)
5. How do you anticipate that the community will benefit from the service/research?

Please submit your application via e-mail with attachments to Shalom Staub (staubs@dickinson.edu) by close of March 31, 2018.