Resources for Campus Members who have Experienced Sexual or Gender-Based Harassment

Sexual Harassment, Sexual Assault, Gender-Based Harassment, Dating/Domestic Violence, Fondling, Stalking, Sexual Exploitation, and Retaliation

Confidential Medical Care

Medical care is important. Medical providers can assess your overall health needs, treat any injuries, test for sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy, and collect evidence for legal proceedings. Medical staff are specially trained and sensitive to your needs and concerns.

UPMC Pinnacle Carlisle

361 Alexander Spring Road
Carlisle, PA 17015
717-960-1695

*UPMC Pinnacle has trained forensic registered nurses.

A representative from the YWCA will be notified, so you will immediately have the option of using the services of an advocate.

Dickinson Public Safety can transport you to and from the medical center. Calling Public Safety does not mean that you must press charges. Call DPS at 717-245-1111 to request transportation to and from the hospital.*

Non-Emergency Medical Care Dickinson College Wellness Center

Kline Annex
42 Cherry Street
Carlisle, PA 17013
717-245-1663

The Wellness Center offers health services to students, including testing for sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy. Emergency contraception is available.

*The Wellness Center does not have a forensic nurse and cannot perform a forensic exam.

Confidential Emotional Support

Talking to someone confidentially can be important for your healing process and understanding your options. Confidential support services are available to assist you on and off campus. No private information is shared with the college without your permission.

REPORT TO LOCAL POLICE

Carlisle Police Department

240 Lincoln Street
Carlisle, PA 17013
911 or 717-243-4121

The college process is separate and independent from the criminal process. If you would like support in notifying local authorities, Title IX & Sexual Respect office staff can assist you in doing so.

What happens if the College is notified that I experienced an incident of sexual/gender-based harassment?

If the Title IX & Sexual Respect Office is aware that you've experienced sexual/gender-based harassment, a staff member will email you to provide you with information about support services and information on how to make a formal grievance complaint. The Title IX staff will invite you to speak with them. The goal of the meeting is to provide you with as much information as possible so that you are informed as to your options, and so that you can make decisions that you are comfortable with. Every effort is made to honor the wishes of the Complainant regarding the college's resolution process.

Can I bring someone with me to the meeting with the Title IX staff?

Yes, you can bring with you any person of your choice to any Title IX related meeting.

What kind of support/help is available to me through the college?

Support services are available to you even if you decide not to move forward with a formal grievance process. The Title IX Coordinator can help you by arranging services on your behalf. Support services, include but not limited to:

- free confidential counseling/psychological support, and assistance in setting up an initial appointment
- academic accommodations, such as rescheduling of exams/assignments, being excused from missing class after an incident, ability to transfer or drop a course without penalty
- housing modifications, such as change in living arrangements
- employment modifications, such as change to work schedule or job assignment
- access to free or low-cost healthcare options
- providing an escort to ensure safe movement between classes and activities

Will I be in trouble if I was drinking underage or using drugs when the incident happened?

No. Dickinson College encourages individuals to report incidents of sexual or gender-based misconduct when they occur. The individuals who act responsibly by reporting incidents of sexual or gender-based misconduct will typically not face College disciplinary action for their own drug or alcohol possession or consumption in connection with the reported incident.

What if I fear retaliation or someone has retaliated against me?

Retaliation is strictly prohibited against anyone who reports an incident of sexual or gender-based misconduct, or who participates in any College process related to such an incident. If you have any concerns about retaliation, you should discuss them with the Title IX Coordinator immediately.
