

Greetings from PCOM's School of Professional and Applied Psychology.

I am pleased to share information regarding our programs with options ranging from the certificate to the doctoral degree level. As you may know, we have focused our energies over these past many years on achieving and maintaining excellence in graduate education in psychology.

As your students take their next steps toward a future in healthcare, please ask them to consider PCOM. Our school has four departments to house all of our graduate psychology programs including: Clinical Psychology, School Psychology, Counseling and Organizational Development and Leadership. We are offering a new, fully online master's program in Applied Positive Psychology which is designed to create thought leaders who rely on both science and heart to transform systems by creating "positive feedback loops."

PCOM is committed to providing education and training in empirically-based CBT practice, interprofessional collaboration, serving the underserved, overcoming health disparities and focusing on individual and cultural diversity in professional practice.

We look forward to hearing from you and wish your students the best in their educational endeavors in the health and behavioral sciences! If you are interested in learning more about providing a pathway for your students to PCOM through an agreement, please contact me. The agreement could assure an interview to our programs provided the terms are met.

Please encourage your students to visit pcom.edu to request more information or email us at admissions@pcom.edu.

Sincerely,
Robert DiTomasso, PhD, ABPP
