

Children in the Workplace

Summary

The presence of young children in the workplace on a regular basis can cause difficulty and awkwardness for co-workers and other members of the campus community. While an occasional emergency may arise when a parent would have to bring a child to work for a limited period of time, the college does not expect this to occur on a regular basis, especially given the concern for possible injuries and accidents to the children and for the college's responsibility in the event of an accident or injury.