

WHAT IS THIS NEW INITIATIVE?

- This program builds long-term, sustainable relationships between a campus group and community organization with shared skills, mission, or focus.
- Why? Because long-term service builds deeper relationships, greater understanding, and a stronger sense of shared purpose.

WHAT DO WE ASK OF COMMUNITY PARTNERS?

- Identify and supervise appropriate volunteer opportunities.
- Host a site-specific orientation: Share information about your organization, including your mission, what makes you unique, and the community or demographic you serve.
- Establish expectations and communication guidelines with students & liaison directly: What is required of the students and what support you need from them?

WHAT DO WE ASK OF OUR STUDENTS?

- The CCLA will provide an orientation to help students orient to Carlisle and explore best practices in ethical service, including accountability and commitment.
- We foster a strong peer community grounded in mutual support and reflection.
- Each campus group identifies a student liaison to manage this initiative and take lead in organizing + communication.

WHO HAS BEEN PARTICIPATING?

- SPY (Supportive Partnerships for Youth) was paired with Alpha Lambda Delta (ALD) to provide weekly tutors for elementary students. ALD is a group interested in hands-on service, mentoring, and youth development.
- CALC (Carlisle Arts and Learning Center) was matched with Arts Collective, aligning with CALC's need for creative volunteers to support elementary and middle school students with a strong interest in creative art.
