Checklist for Place-Based and Community-Engaged Learning Course Attributes

You will need to following information to complete the Request for PBL and CEL Course Attributes:

- The course attribute that you are requesting: Place-Based Learning (PBL) or Community-Engaged Learning (CEL). Review criteria online.
- A description of how the course meets the criteria for your selected attribute (a summary of the community-engaged content of your course).
- A brief description of how students will demonstrate attainment of learning goals for the attribute, including a list of relevant assignments.
- The course description, course department, course number, course title, and numbers for cross-listings of the course.
- Semester(s) for which the attribute is requested (e.g., only this coming semester or every semester the course is offered). Please note, course-level listings ("every semester, every section") must be requested by the department chair. Course-level listings will also be required to register community partnerships and potential support needs each semester, and periodic review of the attribute will be required.
- A brief description of the community partnership included in the course including potential support needs (financial, logistical, pedagogical).
