October 1 & 15
November 5 & 19

With online courses we are uniquely vulnerable to distraction, diversion, and even derailment. The flexibility of online learning can be both a benefit and a challenge, especially for those of us who struggle to maintain a schedule. This workshop will offer strategies to implement and resources to utilize to ensure academic success in this new learning environment.

Not sure what to study when? Test-taking make you nervous? Attend this virtual workshop to learn a variety of tips, techniques and resources for effective studying and test taking, with emphasis on being academically successful in this new online learning environment.
