

TEAM BUILDING AND COLLABORATION

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 2015
4:30–5:30 P.M. | ALTHOUSE 106

Teams are a vital part of almost every organization, which are depending on them to use resources more effectively, solve problems more creatively, and provide greater productivity than individuals working alone.

In this interactive presentation, individuals will learn basic team-building skills and then expand upon them by providing the opportunity to practice in different situations.

MS. MONICA GOULD '85, MBA, CMC is the President and Founder of Strategic Consulting Partners. Strategic Consulting Partners is engaged with several Federal Government clients including with the US Navy, the US Army, the General Services Administration, Defense Logistics Agency, Department of Homeland Security and the US Department of Transportation.

She has a BA from Dickinson College and a MBA from American University. She is an award winning Certified Management Consultant (CMC). Only 1% of management consultants have achieved this designation. In 2009, she was named one of the "Best 50 Women in Business" in the State of Pennsylvania. She is also a professional member of the National Speakers Association where she is sought after as a motivational speaker for many organizations regarding leadership, leading through change, and the empowerment of women.